ANOTHER KNITTING MILL.

The Excelsior Knitting Mill of Union
To Establish Branch in Newberry.

Newberry is to have two Knitting mills. The Newberry mill has been bought and a new company organized with J. A. Blackwelder as president and J. D. Davenport as secretary and treasurer and new and up-to-date machinery will be put in to produce a first class and up-to-date article.

The Excelsior Mills of Union have made arrangements to lease from Mr. J. L. Aull, through Frank R. Hunter's real estate agency the old Cline shops which will be repaired and overhauled, to be used as a branch mill to their Union plant. They hope to have everything ready and in running order within the next month. We are glad to see these new enterprises starting up. They give employment to people and help business generally.

The following is taken from the State's correspondent at Union:

Union, April 11.—The Excelsior knitting mills of this city will in the next 30 days establish a branch knitting mill at Newberry, with R. A. Horn, formerly of Union, as resident superintendent.

The mill will have as its present equipment about 50 knitting machines of the most improved pattern, will employ from 35 to 50 operatives, and will occupy a building conveniently located in the incorporate limits with Columbia, Newberry and Laurens and Southern railway siding facilities. Electricity will be used as operating power. The mill will devote its attention exclusively to the knitting of high grade hosiery, the yarn to be shipped from the mills here and the completed hosiery to be returned here for dyeing. It will be under the same management as the home concern, of which Mr. Emslie Nicholson is president and Mr. J. H. Gault, treasurer and manager.

The Excelsior knitting mills began operation in this city in 1897, in a very small corrugated iron building and with 15 machines, 25 operatives and capacity of 1,000 pairs of hose per day, but by careful and judicious management has built up a business which has justified the enlarging of the plant in every department, until it now occupies a two-story main brick building 80 by 200 feet, containing 300 machines with a daily capacity of 20,000 pairs of hose, employing 525 operatives, has its own dye plant, box factory and everything that will facilitate marketing as well as making its own product, which it ships to every city of importance in the Union, besides England, South Africa, South America and the Sandwich Islands.

GREAT COUNCIL OF RED MEN.

A Pleasant and Successful Meeting
—Good Work Degree Team Catechee Council—Met in Chester Next Year.

The Great Council of Red Men in the state of South Carolina met in Newberry Wednesday morning in annual convention in Red Men's hall at 9 o'clock. The Great Council was called to order by Great Sachem Cole L. Blease and the credentials of the representatives were handed over to the committee. A recess of the Great Council was then taken for one hour in order that addresses of welcome and responses might be made.

The address of welcome on behalf of the city was delivered by Mr. F. H. Dominick at the request of Mayor A. T. Brown, who was unavoidably absent. The address of welcome on behalf of Bergell tribe, No. 24, was delivered by Sachem E. H. Aull. The address of welcome on behalf of Catechee Council was delivered by Mr. J. Marion Davis. Responses were made by Great Senior Sagamore C. E. Tolley, of Anderson, and Mr. R. A. Williams, of Columbia.

The Great Council then proceeded to the regular business before the annual convention. Great Sachem Cole L. Blease submitted his annual report from which it is learned that during his term there have been added seven new tribes with 192 charter members. This does not include those who have joined through other tribes, or members who have joined the new tribes since their organization. Great Sachem Blease states, however, that since the last annual meeting at least six hundred new names have been added to the order. As to the Pocahontas Council, fires have been kindled during the term at Spartanburg and Whitmire and one rekindled at Columbia. Among other recommendations of the Great Sachem, he recommended that the salary of the chief of records be increased, that the list of names of all tribes in the state be published in the Great Council proceedings with the names of the chief of records of each and the place of meeting; that the names of all the Past Great Sachems and the date of the term that each served be also published in the Great Council proceedings, that each tribe hold a convention or annual roll call during the month of October of each year and that some brother be invited to address the tribe upon the good of the order; that the chief of records be authorized and instructed to have the proceedings of the Great Council properly bound in sheep in volumes for five years each, beginning with the first Great Council meeting of this state.

The order in the state seems to be in a flourishing condition, and is growing rapidly.

The local tribe at Newberry has probably the largest membership of any secret order here, the number being about 175. The Pocahontas Council is also in good condition, with a membership of about 75.

Through the efforts and untiring labors of Mr. Otto Klettner Catechee Council conferred the Pocahontas degree Monday night upon 56 applicants. The work is very impressive and beautiful and the degree team, under the direction of Mr. Klettner did the work in a most creditable manner. Everyone who saw the degree speaks in the most complimentary terms of the work done by the degree team. After the degree was conferred refreshments were served to the visiting representatives and everyone had a good time.

Tuesday night in the court house a most elaborate banquet was spread having been prepared by that famous caterer, James Dunbar. It was a matter of very great regret that some of those who had been invited and had accepted the invitation to respond to toasts could not be present.

Hon. B. A. Morgan, of Greenville, telegraphed Tuesday morning that he regretted his engagements in court prevented his coming. Mr. T. H. Tatum, of Bishopville, kindly consented to take his place and respond to the sentiment, "South Carolina."

Dr. F. E. Harrison, who was to respond to "Our Visitors" also wrote that owing to the fact that he had several sick patients whom he could not leave, he regretted that he could not be with us. Mr. R. A. Williams kindly consented to take his place.

In place of Hon. Miles B. McSweeney, who was also prevented from being present, Editor W. H. Wallace was substituted and responded to "The Press."

Hon. John J. McSwain, Grand Master of Odd Fellows, substituted Mr. J. A. Summerson, of Columbia, who responded to the sentiment, "Woman."

Rev. S. H. Zimmerman found that owing to sickness he could not be present to respond to the sentiment, "Our Sister Lodges," and Rev. J. H. Graves kindly took his place. A. Hemrick of Columbia, who was to respond to the sentiment, "Fraternity" was also absent.

Cole L. Blease to "The Great Council Improved Order of Red Men." Mr. Blease being at home called on Col. J. H. Tillman to take his place.

Dr. O. B. Mayer, of the local tribe, acted as toastmaster.

There were present about sixty out-of-town representatives and committeemen.

Just before the quenching of the council fires for dinner on Tuesday Mr. J. L. Michie stated that he desired to make a statement and in a few well chosen and happy remarks presented to Great Sachem Cole L. Blease a handsome gold ring, emblematic of the order of Red Men. The ring was presented in behalf of the members of the Great Council.

Great Sachem Blease was taken entirely by surprise, but responded in fitting terms expressing his high appreciation of this evidence of the confidence and esteem in which he was held by the members of the Great Council.

The Great Council of Red Men concluded its convention here Wednesday morning when the Great officers that were elected were installed.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Great Sachem, C. E. Tolley, Anderson, S. C.

Great Senior Sagamore, J. H. Graves, Newberry, S. C.

Great Junior Sagamore, J. D. Harris, Langley, S. C.

Great Prophet, Cole L. Blease, Newberry, S. C.

Great Keeper of Wampum, J. Ed. Stuckey, Bishopville, S. C.

Great Chief of Records, B. C. Wallace, Sumter, S. C.

Great Representative to Great Council of United States, which meets at Dallas, Texas, Cole L. Blease.

It was decided to hold the next annual convention at Chester, S. C.

At the conclusion of the Post prandial speeches Tuesday night at the banquet, Mr. F. H. Dominick arose and begged privilege of making a statement, and proceeded in a few happy remarks to present to Mr. Cole L. Blease a Past Great Sachem's jewel in behalf of the Great Council. It was a very handsome jewel properly inscribed. Mr. Blease accepted it in a speech of much feeling and appreciation for the many acts of kindness which the Great Council had bestowed upon him.

The session here has been a most pleasant and enjoyable one as well as a most successful one.

DEFEATED BY COLUMBIA.

An Honorable Defeat In A Well Played Game.

On Wednesday afternoon, the College park the Columbia base ball team of the South Atlantic league, gave a fine exhibition of the sport in a game between that team and the Newberry college boys.

The score eleven to one in favor of the professionals is not bad when one considers that the college team is composed of boys who make study an end instead of sport. This game was excellent practice for the college and the management is to be congratulated on securing the Columbia team for no doubt they have gained valuable training which they can use in contest against their sister colleges.

The Columbia fellows are a gentlemanly set and Newberry would be glad to have them here all the time.

Manager Granville must be commended on the bunch he has got together not only as good ball players, but as a quiet set of gentlemen. There was only one occurrence in the game which might have been criticised and that was when the first baseman deliberately kicked a ground ball that would have settled on fair ground beyond the foul line. While this may have been done in a spirit of play, at the same time, the college public can hardly understand it and no doubt it was severely criticised.

Coach Holland has his men in excellent form for the Furman game on Saturday. There is some good material on the team. In Wednesday's game especially was noticeable the playing of Cabaniss and Boozier. These men are natural ball players. They will no doubt be of much help in winning the college games of the season. The work of Crouch was up to its usual fine standard, and Houseal who is younger in the game showed up in fine form against the professionals.

The names of the players and their respective positions are as follows:

Newberry college—Cabaniss, c.; Owen, s. s.; Boozier, 3 b.; Scurry, l. f.; Wessinger, c. f.; Belenbaugh, r. f.; Busby, 2 b.; Hoover, 1 b.; Crouch and Houseal, pitchers.

Columbia Professionals—Dunn and Ferrel, c.; Needham, s. s.; Granville, 3 b.; Schirm, l. f.; Wallace, c. f.; Kennedy, r. f.; Duffy, 2 b.; Lally, 1 b.; Ashton, and Ketter, pitchers.

The next game at the college park will be on Saturday afternoon between Furman university and Newberry college. This game is exciting a great deal of attention as Furman and Newberry both have excellent chances for the South Carolina college pennant. A large crowd will doubtless attend the game and help root Newberry on to victory.

GOURD WITH A LONG HISTORY.

Came From Scotland 150 Years Ago—
Served in the Revolutionary War.

Mr. W. T. Saxon of this city has a gourd which has a long and interesting history.

The gourd, which holds about a pint, was grown in Scotland, according to the story which Mr. Saxon has had handed down to him. It was brought to this country by Lewis Watson, who settled on Cloud's Creek in what is now Newberry county, in 1750. James Watson, his son, was a soldier in the Revolutionary war, and used this gourd as a powder horn during his service. At his death in 1844, it passed into the hands of Jack Saxon, one of his descendants, who retained it until he died in 1898, when it passed into the possession of his son, W. T. Saxon, who still owns it.

It is just a small round gourd, which can be easily carried in one's coat pocket, and with a small hole in the end in which a cork fits. Mr. Saxon naturally prizes it very highly.—Anderson Mail.

Cloud's Creek is in Edgefield county, we think, and not Newberry. We do not now recall any Cloud's Creek in this county.

Death of An Infant.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fulmer, of Columbia, formerly of this city, sincerely sympathize with them in their sorrow at the death of their infant daughter, that occurred on Tuesday last in Columbia.

Saturday afternoon of this week is the day for the baby show which is to be had on Mr. John Kinard's lawn at 4 o'clock.

THE CHANGE NOT TO BE MADE.

The Schedule on Southern Will Remain As At Present—Change
Probably In The Fall.

It has been learned from Columbia that the passenger representatives of the Southern railroad held a meeting in Washington the early part of this week to take up the matter of arranging the schedules for the summer, and that at least for the present the proposed change of schedule on the Columbia and Greenville division of the Southern will not be made effective.

There was a vigorous protest from Anderson which is really not on the main line from the Columbia and Greenville division, but it seems that the business men of the city of Anderson were afraid that the proposed change would result in such a change of schedule on the Blue Ridge as to inconvenience the people from Seneca and other points between that place and Anderson from coming to Anderson and returning the same day, as they are permitted to do under the present arrangement.

The prevailing reason probably why the schedule will not be changed is that the people from Charleston and other points between Charleston and Columbia object to the change because it would prevent them from going to the mountains without making a stop of several hours in Columbia. "Probably in the early fall after the mountain travel is over for the summer this matter will be taken up again and the public can then have the winter months to get accustomed to the change. There are a number of people in Anderson who would like to see the change of schedule effected at once, and we are satisfied if it were put in operation that everyone along the line from Greenville, to Columbia would soon agree that it was a much better arrangement and a much more convenient schedule than the one we have now.

Superintendent Williams told a representative of The Herald and News on Wednesday that he expected to make such an arrangement that the trains could be run on time. The Southern going up yesterday, however, was one hour late and has been late every day for several weeks.

The railroad commissioners assured us that if the change did not go into operation that the representatives from Newberry should be given a hearing, but it seems that the change which they agreed upon has been reversed, and we have heard nothing from the commissioners. Probably they do not know of the meeting in Washington of the passenger representatives of the Southern. This being campaign year it may be that the commissioners do not care to take the responsibility of any change or of any other matter.

Feast of the Passover.

The Jewish Feast of the Passover, the greatest, most important and most rigidly observed of all Jewish festivals is being celebrated this week. It always begins on the 14th of the first month, Nisan, and continues for eight days. It commemorates the deliverance of Israel from Egyptian bondage. The present week is the Passover week, familiarly known as "Matzoth" week, beginning last Monday evening and continuing until next Tuesday evening. Matzoth is the name of the unleavened bread used during this week, in the celebration of the feast.

The festival is marked by religious services in the synagogues, and the observance of ancient customs in the homes of the people. In Newberry, where there is no synagogue, the celebration is confined to this home observance.

Newberry Honored.

Newberry has the honor at present of having the two Great Representatives of the Great Council of Red Men of the United States in the persons of Mr. J. H. Hair and Mr. Cole L. Blease. It also has the distinction of having two Supreme Representatives to the Supreme Lodge of Odd Fellows in the persons of Mr. J. M. Davis and Mr. Cole L. Blease. These are distinctions which very rarely, if ever, happen to lodges of separate secret organizations in the same city.

In addition to this Newberry has the distinction of having among its number, the oldest living Red Man in the world in the person of Dr. G. R. Harding.

Easter Service.

There will be services at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer this morning at eleven o'clock, with a brief address by Pastor Seabrook on "The Significance of the Cross."

Easter will be observed with appropriate services at the Sunday school service an offering will be made for the Lutheran missions in Japan.

At the eleven o'clock service there will be a very brief sermon on the theme "He Is Risen." Following the sermon a large number of young members of the church will be confirmed and the Lord's Supper celebrated.

The subject of the address at the night service will be "Risen with Him."

The Easter offering of the congregation will be for South Carolina synod's apportionment. It is expected that the offerings will largely exceed the synodical apportionment, and the excess will be devoted to the United Synod's Foreign Mission work.

Ashley Manufacturing Company.

The organization of the Ashley Manufacturing company has been perfected by the election of Mr. J. A. Blackwelder as president and Mr. J. D. Davenport as secretary and treasurer. The old knitting mill will be thoroughly overhauled at once, the buildings enlarged and painted and machinery of the newest and most up-to-date construction added. This work will be pushed as rapidly as possible and as soon as it is completed, operations will begin in the factory.
